

INNOVATIVE PEDAGOGIES: NEW PATHWAYS TO UNIVERSITY TEACHING

UNIVERSITIES:

University of Tübingen

in partnership with:

University of Bucharest,

Université libre de Bruxelles,

Universidad Autónoma de Madrid

DATE:

23rd of June 2022

▶ 15.00 – 18.00 CET

4th of July 2022

▶ 15.00 – 18.00 CET

LANGUAGE:

English

TARGET GROUP:

Academics/university teachers at all levels and from all disciplines; maximum no: 25

ONLINE PLATFORMS:

CIVIS digital campus (tbd)

FACILITATORS:

Andrea FAUSEL

Academic Affairs, Center for Teaching and Learning, member of the task force on Innovative pedagogies. Studies in political science and French, PhD in romance linguistics, working in the context of digital learning for more than 20 years, at the Center since 2011.

andrea.fausel@uni-tuebingen.de

Other facilitators: to be confirmed

Registration link

BRIEF DESCRIPTION:

Objectives:

- ▲ The workshop aims at offering lecturers a short introduction to innovative pedagogies. Academics from different disciplines who practice a kind of innovative pedagogy in their teaching will be invited to present and discuss their examples (4 examples from the CIVIS universities involved per workshop).
- ▲ The participants will have the opportunity to discuss on the transfer of innovative pedagogy models into other teaching contexts and on the development of teaching concepts in general.
- ▲ Further interesting aspects may be different cultures of teaching and learning and the interdisciplinary perspective.

Content:

- ▲ Short introduction/general overview innovative pedagogies;
- ▲ Examples from different disciplines;
- ▲ Development of outlines for transfer.

Methodology:

- ▲ Input, discussion (synchronous);
- ▲ Exchange, working material – for example the Handbook on innovative pedagogies, reflection on teaching and innovative pedagogies, including some tasks/interventions (asynchronous);
- ▲ Working groups if possible.

AVAILABLE RESOURCES:

Innovative pedagogies: ways into the process of learning transformation