(include the two representatives who will present the team in Rome, if applicable).

Problem statement

Provide a brief description of the specific issue of over-tourism from the perspective of inclusivity your team is addressing, linking it to a local, regional and European context. Highlight why this problem is important.

Proposed solution overview

Offer a summary of your proposed solution in 2-3 sentences, ensuring it is both innovative and easy to understand. Afterwards, state the main objectives of your solution, such as addressing visitor congestion, fostering community participation or promoting sustainable tourism practices through inclusivity.

Implementation plan

Outline a clear and actionable plan for implementing your solution. Specify the key steps required.

Expected impact

Describe the immediate benefits (short-term) you expect your solution to achieve. Additionally, explain the long-term vision for how your idea can contribute to solving overtourism under the lense of inclusivity on a broader scale.

Challenges and risks

Acknowledge potential challenges your team may face in implementing the solution and suggest strategies to address these obstacles effectively.

Conclusion and call to action

Summarize the key points of your draft and emphasize why your solution deserves attention. End with an inspiring call to action and dissimination activities, encouraging stakeholders to support your idea and contribute to its development.

Practical details

a. Visual elements and posters

If appropriate, include a simple visual element such as a diagram, flowchart or map to clarify your proposal. Ensure it enhances rather than detracts from the content.

The poster is highly recommended because it will be exhibited during the Global CIVIS Days.

b. Formatting notes and references

Include references for any data, research, or sources of inspiration cited in your draft. Use APA referencing style (https://apastyle.apa.org/instructional-aids/reference-examples.pdf). Write in clear, professional English, and maintain a structured, concise format throughout the document.
